APPENDIX A

SERVICE LEVEL AGREEMENT

This Service Level Agreement (“SLA”) is incorporated into and made a part of the Extreme Platform ONE Subscription Services Agreement (“Agreement”).

1. Definitions

The following terms, as capitalized in this Exhibit 1, shall have the following meanings in this exhibit:

“Annual Uptime Percentage” is calculated by subtracting from 100% the percentage of 5-minute periods during a Service Year in which the Cloud Service was Unavailable to You. If You have been using the Cloud Service for less than a full 365 days, Your Service Year for purposes of submitting a Claim and determining a Service Credit will be deemed to be the preceding 365 days, but any such days prior to Your actual use of the Cloud Service will be deemed to have had 100% Availability. Any Unavailability occurring during Your period of use, but prior to submitting a Claim cannot be used as a basis for future submitted Claims. Annual Uptime Percentage measurements exclude Unavailability resulting directly or indirectly from any SLA Exclusion.

“Availability” means the ability to login and perform operations by means of the Cloud Service.

“Claim” means a claim for a Service Credit You submit by opening a support case with Extreme, on the basis that the Cloud Service has been Unavailable to You during a service period.

“Cloud Service” means Extreme Platform ONE public cloud service. For avoidance of doubt, it does not include private or on-prem cloud services maintained on the customer’s own network, and it does not apply to Preview Services as defined in the Agreement.

“Customer” refers to You – whether an individual or corporate entity – as the end user of the Cloud Service.

“Incident” means any set of circumstances resulting in the Unavailability of the Cloud Service at any time, consistent with the Service Level commitments under this SLA. An Incident, for purposes of submitting and determining the validity of a Claim, shall not be based on any SLA Exclusions.

“Service Credit” is a dollar credit, calculated as set forth below and in the table above that we may credit back to Your account upon Your submission of a validated SLA Claim.

“Service Level” means the amount of time expressed as a percentage during which the Cloud Service is available and accessible to Customers.

“Service Year” is the 365 day period preceding the date of an SLA claim.

“SLA Exclusion” means an instance or reason for which the Service commitment hereunder does not apply and the associated inability to login and perform operations by means of the Cloud Service does not constitute Unavailability for purposes of a Service Credit.

“Unavailable” or “Unavailability” means each full increment of 5 minutes during Your use of the Cloud Service where Your access to the Cloud Service, has no external connectivity and during which You are unable to login and monitor Your devices.

2. Cloud Service Commitment

Extreme will use commercially reasonable efforts to make the Cloud Service available to You with an Annual Uptime Percentage of at least 99.99%, excluding planned maintenance service. In the event that Extreme does not meet this SLA uptime commitment, You will be eligible to receive a Service Credit as follows:

Annual Uptime Percentage	Service Credit
99.9% to 99.99%	5 days
99% to 99.9%	10 days
Below 99%	20 days

3. Service Credit Requests.

- 3.1 To receive a Service Credit, You must notify us and submit a Claim within thirty (30) days from the Incident that is the basis for Your claim.
- 3.2 To be eligible, Your Claim must include:
- (a) the dates, times, description and duration of each Incident experienced;
 - (b) Your account number and ExtremeCloud IQ instance(s) that were running and unaffected during the time of each Incident; and
 - (c) Your server request logs, network traceroutes and URL(s) affected by the Incident, that document the errors and corroborate the claimed Unavailability (any confidential or sensitive information should be removed).
- 3.3 Failure to provide a timely Claim, which includes all the required information, will disqualify the Claim and You from receiving a Service Credit. If we validate the Claim, then we will issue the Service Credit within two billing cycles following the month in which the Claim is submitted.

4. Service Credit Provisions.

- 4.1 The Service Credits are Your sole and exclusive remedy for any Incidents affecting the Service Level commitments to You under the Agreement, including with respect to any Incident or any Unavailability.
- 4.2 Service Credits shall be a credit towards future services only, and do not entitle You to any refund or other payment from Extreme.
- 4.3 Service Credits may not be transferred or applied to any other account, nor exchanged for, or converted to monetary amounts.
- 4.4 The maximum Service Credits awarded with respect to Claims a Customer submits in any calendar month shall not, under any circumstance, exceed in the aggregate the Customer's equivalent monthly Cloud Service fees for such month. In the event that an Incident results in the Unavailability of more than one Service Level, You must choose only one Service Level under which to submit a Claim based on that Incident, and You may not submit any other Claim under any other Service Level with respect to the same Incident. Extreme will use all information reasonably available to it to validate Claims and make a good faith judgment on whether the SLA and which Service Levels apply to the Claim.

5. SLA Exclusions.

5.1 This SLA does not apply to any Availability or Unavailability of the Cloud Service:

- Caused by factors outside of Extreme's reasonable control, including any force majeure event or interruption or impediment to Internet access or related problems, including downtime attributable to third-party service providers that are not within Extreme's direct control;
- That result from Your equipment, software or other Technology and/or third-party equipment, software or other Technology (other than third-party equipment within Extreme's direct control);
- That resulted from performing announced maintenance service and Cloud Service upgrades;
- Associated with beta testing, evaluation and trial usage of Cloud Service accounts;
- That result from any actions or inactions from Customer or any third party, including employees, agents, contractors, or vendors, or anyone gaining access to the Cloud Service by means of Customer's passwords or equipment. This includes unavailability caused by misuse, unauthorized modifications, or configurations by the Customer, as well as downtime caused by security breaches or attacks, if not directly attributable to Extreme's failure to maintain adequate security measures.
- Resulting from compliance with governmental or regulatory actions, orders, or directives.
- Arising from our suspension and termination of Your right to use the Cloud Service in accordance with this Agreement.
