

Additional Update to the End-of-Sale (EOS) Notification of Brocade-branded Transceivers and Cables SKUs, and Replacement with Equivalent Extreme-Branded SKUs.

EOS Notification Summary

---

This notification provides additional updates the EOS notices issued on 4/30/2019, 7/31/2018, 8/30/2019, 11/9/2019, and 3/16/2020 concerning the discontinuation of Brocade-branded cables and transceivers SKUs in the Extreme's portfolio. This update outlines:

- EOS and EOSL Dates (Tables 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5)
- List of software (S/W) releases and hardware (H/W) platforms supporting the replacement SKUs (Table 6).

Update in this revision:

1. The End of Sale date for a number of SKUs below has been extended as highlighted below to allow additional time for customers to transition to the new replacement SKUs. Note that during this extended time, some components will experience extended lead times as new inventory will be purchased to support backlog orders only.
2. The 'replacement' part for a number of SKUs has been corrected compared with prior version.
3. Additional notes are also provided to clarify certain terms.

All changes compared with prior version are highlighted in the tables below.

Affected Products

---

The complete list of affected SKUs is provided in Tables 1, 2 and 3 below.

Table 1 - List of SKUs which previously had 7/15/2020 End of Sale date.

Important Notes:

1. The availability of each individual part is “while supplies last”, and supply of any module is not guaranteed through the End of Sale date.
2. Support services for the parts defined in this announcement are “Service Associated” with the chassis or module in which they are used. The EOSL date shown above for SKUs indicated in Table 1 reflects extension of the standard EOSL date to enable service association with chassis/modules which have not yet been announced for EOS. During the support period, Return Merchandise Authorization (RMA) replacements will use EOS SKUs if available, after which the equivalent new replacement SKUs will be provided.

3. During the EOS notification period, certain parts may experience extended lead times.
4. The company name on the transceiver/cable and outside packaging may change to reflect “Extreme”. The device is otherwise identical to the part which had “Brocade” company name on the label/packaging.

S/W Release Support for Replacement Parts listed above

All EOS SKUs listed in Tables 1, 2 and 3 will be supported on:

- All existing supported S/W releases with which they are currently supported.
- All S/W releases prior to EOSL date of the supporting platform or optic unless noted in future software release notes.

All New Replacement SKUs listed in Tables 1, 2 and 3:

- Are supported in releases and platforms as indicated by the Optics Compatibility Tool which is found at <https://optics.extremenetworks.com> . Please refer to this tool and/or specific release notes for individual releases and later releases to confirm which replacement SKUs are supported in each release.
- Will operate as an “unsupported” devices on existing supported S/W releases that do not support the Replacement Optics above as defined by the Optics Compatibility Tool or release notes. In these cases, Digital Optical Monitoring may not function. Customers are recommended to upgrade to the releases listed in the Optics Compatibility Tool and/or release notes.

Customers operating older unsupported software releases are recommended to upgrade to the latest software releases indicated for Optic support, which will provide support for replacement SKUs listed above as indicated by the Optics Compatibility Tool and release notes for each release.
