

End-of-Sale Announcement for I-Series Switches

This notification announces the end-of-sale of the legacy I-Series Industrial Switches

The I-Series is an industrial Ethernet switch family that Extreme Networks has been offering since January 2007. Since it has lately become increasingly harder to continue to get components to build the I-Series, Extreme is announcing the End of Sale of the I-Series. Please take note that the industrial transceivers (I-MGBIC-GLX, I-MGBIC-LC03 and I-MGBIC-GSX) will not be going End of Sale at this time and will continue to be offered. The mounting options (I3H-DIN-KIT and I3H-RACK-MNT) for the I-Series switches will be going End of Sale on June 30, 2016.
